Welcome to you and your family! UCLA recognizes that being a parent and/or a guardian or caregiver is an important facet of your identity. We want you to be proudly visible on campus as a parenting student; you bring important knowledge and wisdom that you have gained from this role to the whole UCLA community. This guide is designed to help you:

1. Navigate the resources that are available to you as a parenting student or student with dependents at UCLA
2. Connect you with other parenting students at UCLA
3. Give you information about how to provide advice on policy changes

You can read the whole guide from start to finish, or use the table of contents to find the quick reference that you need to answer your specific question.

This toolkit is intended to provide a starting point for you to navigate resources, and is under construction in a Wikipedia-like format to provide you with the most current information we have. Please be aware, however, that policies and resources are changing at a fast pace. *DISCLAIMER: we have also listed paid services in this guide that some of our parenting students have found useful in the past, but that UCLA, the Bruin Resource Center, and the Students with Dependents program can’t endorse; we list them as a courtesy to you, but please take the time to verify them on your own, knowing that we may not have the most updated or accurate information for them.

We rely on you: if you see an error in this guide, or have a suggestion for something you want to add that you think would be helpful for other student parents to know, contact the Students with Dependents program at (310) 794-1823 or email swd@saonet.ucla.edu.

At the Bruin Resource Center (BRC), we provide specialized services and programs to address the particular concerns and needs of all UCLA students, including undergraduate, graduate, and professional school students, who identify as members of these communities:

- Students with Dependents
- Current and Former Foster Youth
• Undocumented Students
• Transfer Students
• Veterans
• Students in Recovery, Students who are Considering Recovery, or Students who have Family and Friends in Recovery

Additionally, the Bruin Resource Center is the home of the UCLA Intergroup Relations Program, and the GRIT Coaching Program.

The BRC is here to help students make the most of their educational experience at UCLA. We understand that even the most capable student can, at times, feel confused and intimidated by the size and complexity of the campus. The BRC helps by providing information, referrals, and support to navigate the university and to connect with the right campus resource(s) or people within the many and diverse social and academic communities of the campus.

BRC offers a wide array of programs, volunteer opportunities, and internships to help students develop practical life skills to succeed academically and to their full potential, in college and beyond. Working with partners throughout campus, we strive to cultivate an inclusive and nurturing educational environment that promotes lifelong learning, well-being, and development of the whole person. For more detailed information, visit our website at www.brc.ucla.edu.

STUDENTS WITH DEPENDENTS PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission of the Students with Dependents Program
The Students with Dependents (SwD) Program at the Bruin Resource Center provides caring and personalized support to UCLA undergraduate, graduate and professional school students who are parents, guardians, and caregivers. The program is committed to promoting your success by offering programs and advocacy that enrich and support parenting students’ academic, personal, and professional goals.

We recognize that access to higher education allows student parents to positively impact their own academic, career, and economic outcomes, while also establishing a solid foundation for the future success of their children. The SwD Program aims to successfully transition you to UCLA, and assist you through your degree completion by providing a family-friendly, centrally located facility, and offering a wide variety of services and activities that encourage both academic and family success. We understand that the UCLA community as well as the future generation of successful Bruins benefit from UCLA’s dedication to providing resources and support for parenting students and their families, as well as from the wealth of knowledge and experience that students who are parents, guardians and caregivers bring to campus.

The Students with Dependents Program is located in the Student Activities Center, room B-44 on the downstairs level. Please check the website for current program hours (open weekdays; hours vary during the summer).

Students with Dependents Program Services Include:

- The Parent Guide: Students with Dependents Program at UCLA (this manual), which outlines detailed information on specialized services located on campus and within the community that support parenting students
- A dedicated space at the Bruin Resource Center for studying, relaxing, and meeting other students with shared experiences (including new parents, parents of older children, undergraduate parenting students, transfer students who are parenting students, graduate students who are parenting students, and students who are parents/caregivers of children with special needs).

- For pregnant students, student parents who are nursing, and their partners: please refer to the Resources and Policies for Breastfeeding at UCLA guide for information about:
  - Your rights as a pregnant and/or parenting student at UCLA under Title IX
  - Map of Lactation Spaces at UCLA: Access the lactation room layer on the interactive UCLA campus map here
  - UCLA Resources and Student Organizations
  - UCLA Lactation Educators, with support for enrolled students and their partners
  - Also, if you are thinking about taking leave, make sure to consult with Students with Dependents Program Staff and/or the Insurance Office on the 4th Floor of the Ashe Center to make sure that you understand how the timing of leave may affect your health insurance. Consult with them ahead of time so you know your options and you can make sure you do not have a break in health insurance.

- For all parenting students:
• Information, referrals, and support services that assist with navigating the UCLA system through accessible and dedicated professional staff and student interns. (call (310) 794-1823 or email swd@saonet.ucla.edu to make an appointment or ask a question)

• Help with finding on-campus jobs

• Support for navigating on- and off-campus resources and referrals if you require assistance with basic needs (i.e., food, diapers, clothing, etc.), including accessing social services programs (more below)

• Child fun bags (available at B-44 Student Activities Center)

• Annual Little Bruin Wishes holiday gift program (open each November to families of all faiths, cultures, and traditions. Graduate, undergraduate, non-traditional, and international families are eligible. Any student who feels that they will not be able to give their children a happy holiday due to financial limitations is encouraged to apply).

• Guidance on accessing and applying for social services programs including CalFresh (food stamps/SNAP), CalWORKs/GAIN (cash aid), WIC (Women, Infants, and Children Program) and Medi-Cal (healthcare).

• Guidance on accessing and applying for guaranteed parking (payment is required, along with documentation).

• Advocacy and support through collaborating with other UCLA Departments such as Financial Aid, Housing, Early Childhood Education, Transportation, Student Affairs, and with professors and UCLA employers.

• Quarterly workshops to help strengthen skills and promote success as both parents and scholars.

• Bimonthly SwD email newsletters sent throughout the quarter filled with information on jobs, scholarships, and events pertinent to student parents.

• A vibrant and vocal online community of students sharing experiences, advice, and support.

• Behind-the-scenes: Policy work at the University and Governmental level to make UCLA more inclusive for student parents (ask us if you would like to get involved!).

• A family-friendly graduation celebration annually in June, in partnership with Parenting Students at UCLA (PSUCLA).

Students with Dependents Program Staff Contact:
Jean Libby, M.Ed., CLEC

Students with Dependents Interns at the Bruin Resource Center are also available to meet with parenting students and to coordinate resources and referrals.

STAYING CONNECTED WITH THE PROGRAM

1. Join the SwD listserv to receive biweekly newsletters to stay informed about important SwD Program information: http://smarturl.it/UCLASWDLISTSERV.
2. Join the SwD Facebook Group to instantly connect with other UCLA parenting students: http://www.facebook.com/groups/studentswithdependents/.
3. Like our page on Facebook to get the latest updates on events, scholarships, and resources available to UCLA parenting students and their families: http://www.facebook.com/uclastudentswithdependents.
4. Always feel free to contact Jean Libby, Students with Dependents Program Director, and the Students with Dependents Interns at the Bruin Resource Center. B-44 Student Activities Center, 310-794-1823, swd@saonet.ucla.edu. See http://www.swd.ucla.edu for current office hours.

MINDSET: NAVIGATING UCLA AS A PARENTING STUDENT

Policies, procedures, and information at UCLA are constantly being updated; additionally, you will most likely need to talk with multiple offices and people to get all of the information you need.

Please remember: if you need something, UCLA probably has it, or has people who can help you find it. If you have an idea, UCLA has the tools and resources to help you implement it. You will save a lot of time up front, though, when you are looking for answers, by speaking with a staff member or intern at the Bruin Resource Center’s Students with Dependents program about your specific question.

B-44 Student Activities Center

Jean is the Director of the Students with Dependents Program. She is available for office hours to coordinate resources and referrals, one-on-one appointments, and also leads quarterly lactation education workshops.

Phone: 310-794-1823

Office Hours: http://www.swd.ucla.edu/
Please know that you and your family are welcome at UCLA, and that you, as a pregnant or parenting student, have the right to be treated the same as other non-pregnant, non-parenting students on campus. For questions regarding your rights, please contact the Students with Dependents program staff for consultation and referrals.

We cannot reiterate this enough: if you are experiencing either discrimination or any kind of difficult situation affecting your ability to get your work done in the context of your status as a pregnant, lactating, or parenting student, talk with the Students with Dependents program staff. Talking with the Students with Dependents Program staff first will save you a lot of time and aggravation; they can give you specific referrals to offices and staff to help you with your particular situation or issue.

TITLE IX

Students, faculty, and staff who have questions about the rights of pregnant and/or parenting students should refer to the Title IX office. Title IX can assist students with filing a report if they believe their rights have been violated or they were refused an appropriate accommodation. Please visit this website from the Title IX office to read about your basic rights as a pregnant or parenting student.

If you are experiencing discrimination based on your status as a pregnant or parenting student, please consult with the Students with Dependents Staff for more information on support, resources, and both confidential and non-confidential reporting options and resources available to you on campus.

Depending on your role on campus, you may also have rights beyond those guaranteed by Title IX. Please contact the Students with Dependents staff at the Bruin Resource Center with any questions about your particular situation and they will make appropriate referrals. More specifically, depending on your particular situation, how you are funded, and the kind of work you are doing, you may have rights and/or resources available to you through:

- UCLA Title IX Office
- Center for Accessible Education
- ADA/504 Compliance Office
- UCLA Equity, Diversity and Inclusion
- Campus Human Resources Staff Diversity and Compliance
UC Student Workers Union

UCLA’s Center for Accessible Education (CAE) facilitates academic accommodations for regularly enrolled, matriculating students with disabilities. The CAE provides access to the numerous educational opportunities available to students on our campus and empowers students to realize their academic potential.

If you have questions about disability-related accommodations, please contact the CAE at (310) 825-1501.

https://www.cae.ucla.edu

Here is some information from the CAE’s webpage for pregnant and parenting students:

A normal pregnancy generally doesn’t qualify as a disability under the ADA, although disabling conditions associated with pregnancy (such as gestational diabetes and preeclampsia) would qualify if they substantially limit one or more major life activity. Pregnant and/or parenting students who have general questions about their rights under Title IX should contact the Title IX office.

Although a normal pregnancy doesn’t qualify as a disability under ADA, the CAE provides academic accommodations for pregnant, parenting, and lactating students.

Common accommodations available to pregnant, parenting, and lactating students include:

- Adjusted attendance requirements
- Adjusted assignment deadlines
- Exam accommodations (separate test environment, time compensated breaks)
- Modified assignments
- Access to lactation spaces on campus
- Van service
- Parking
- Housing

If you are a pregnant, parenting, or lactating student and you need academic accommodations, please Apply for Accommodations. During the interactive process, a CAE Disability Specialist can work with the student to devise an accommodations plan tailored to each student’s unique needs. It should also be noted that parenting student rights also extend to male students.
If you are unsure of whether your questions or issues should be addressed by the CAE or the Title IX office, please feel free to give us a call. The CAE works closely with the Title IX office to ensure that you have access to the information and accommodations you need.

If you are experiencing a web accessibility issue, please contact the ADA/504 Office for further assistance by emailing ada@saonet.ucla.edu or calling (310) 206-8049.

If you are a student and would like to file a disability-based discrimination grievance, please see UCLA Procedure 230.2: Student Grievances Regarding Violations of Anti-Discrimination Laws or University Policies on Discrimination Based on Disability

FOR GRADUATE AND PROFESSIONAL STUDENT PARENTS

KNOW THAT YOU HAVE RIGHTS

Graduate and Professional School Students often fall into several roles on campus: you may be both a student and a UCLA staff member. Different policies may apply to you depending on these roles, and/or even how you are funded. If you are pregnant, make sure that you discuss policies and procedures for childbirth leave and/or accommodations with the student affairs officer/graduate counselor from your academic department or school. The staff at the Bruin Resource Center’s Students with Dependents program can help you to understand your rights or to make the correct referral to talk about your options.

We cannot reiterate this enough: if you are experiencing either discrimination or any kind of difficult situation affecting your ability to get your work done in the context of your status as a pregnant, lactating, or parenting graduate student, talk with the Students with Dependents program staff. Talking with the Students with Dependents Program staff first will save you a lot of time and aggravation; they can give you specific referrals to offices and staff to help you with your particular situation or issue.

Depending on your particular situation, how you are funded, and the kind of work you are doing, you may have rights and/or resources available to you through:

GRADUATE DIVISION STAFF CONTACT

The Students with Dependents program works closely with the UCLA Graduate Division’s Graduate Student and Postdoctoral Scholar Case Manager, and will often refer you to him. The Case Manager can help you to work with your school or academic department to discuss options related to pregnancy, childbirth leave, and/or issues related to being a parenting graduate student. The Case Manager can also advise on plans for funding, leave, and accommodations, and even how to talk with your academic department or school about what you need.

Armando Flores

GRADUATE CHILDBIRTH ACCOMODATION AND CHILDBIRTH LEAVE

From the Graduate Division’s website: Six weeks of maternity leave funding are automatically granted for expectant mothers holding UCLA Fellowships, Graduate Division Endowed Fellowships or fellowships offered by academic departments and centers at UCLA. (Refer to the Graduate Student Financial Support booklet for lists of these fellowships.) Also, a student holding a TAship is eligible to receive up to six (6) weeks of paid leave for pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions for the period prior to, during and after childbirth (refer to Article 17 Leaves of the University of California and the UAW contract). You do not need to apply for Childbirth Accommodation Funding if you have an appointment as a TA nor if you have these types of fellowships.

The UCLA Childbirth Accommodation Fund was established to provide expectant mothers who work as GSRs, or who hold extramural fellowships that do not fund maternity leave, with paid leave for up to six weeks. A student may choose to continue to work in some modified capacity during these six weeks but is not required to do so. A longer period of leave may be granted, without pay, in the case of exceptional medical circumstances experienced by the mother or child before or after birth.

Research doctoral students who are undergoing childbirth or coping with other serious parenting demands are allowed additional time to meet established deadlines for passing preliminary and/or qualifying examinations and completing their dissertations. See page 23 of Standards and Procedures for Graduate Study at UCLA for more details.

Please visit this page on the Graduate Division’s website for more information, FAQs, and for the petition forms.

Also make sure to consult with Students with Dependents Program Staff, the Graduate Division’s Graduate Student and Postdoctoral Case Manager, and/or the Insurance Office on the 4th Floor of the Ashe Center to make sure that you understand how the timing of your leave may affect your health insurance. Consult with them ahead of time so you know your options and you can make sure you do not have a break in health insurance.

GRADUATE CHILDCARE REIMBURSEMENT PROGRAM

This program is for registered UCLA students holding at least a 25% ASE (Academic Student Employee—includes teaching assistants, readers and tutors) and/or GSR (Graduate Student Researcher) appointment during the academic year and who have (a) qualified dependent(s). An ASE/GSR who meets the standard eligibility requirements will be offered a reimbursement of up to $900 per quarter or $1,350 per semester for childcare costs during the academic year. Additionally, an ASE/GSR who meets the standard eligibility criteria for a summer session appointment can be reimbursed up to $900 for eligible expenses incurred during the summer. The $900 limit applies regardless of the number of summer terms an ASE/GSR may work in a calendar year. To be eligible for reimbursement during the summer term, the ASE/GSR must also be a registered student in the regular academic terms preceding and following the summer session appointment.

Please visit this page on the Graduate Division’s website for forms, FAQs and the reimbursement process. Please note that this program is not available to those holding a fellowship—it is available only to those who have at least a 25% appointment as an ASE/GSR.
GRADUATE STUDENT RESOURCE CENTER

The UCLA Graduate Student Resource Center is a resource and referral center specifically for currently-enrolled graduate and professional school students. In conjunction with the Graduate Students Association, it plans the campuswide Graduate Student Orientation and Equity, Inclusion and Diversity Graduate Welcome Day events for incoming graduate and professional school students. It is also the home of the Graduate Writing Center, which offers specialized support, workshops and one-on-one writing appointments for any writing related to your field of study.

FOR PARENTS OF CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL NEEDS

Talk with the Students with Dependents Program Staff to connect with other parents of children with special needs and to navigate resources that are available to you at UCLA.
State agency: California Department of Developmental Services

From their website: The California Department of Developmental Services is the agency through which the State of California provides services and supports to individuals with developmental disabilities.

These disabilities include intellectual disability, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, autism and related conditions. Services are provided through state-operated developmental centers and community facilities, and contracts with 21 nonprofit regional centers. The regional centers serve as a local resource to help find and access the services and supports available to individuals with developmental disabilities and their families.

The state website also publishes this document to help parents identify children who may need special support:

Reasons for Concern that Your Child or a Child in Your Care May Need Special Help

WESTSIDE REGIONAL CENTER
If you live around UCLA, you can request free, state-mandated assistance for your child and determine if they are eligible for services at the Westside Regional Center. The regional center that serves you is determined by where you live; if you live outside of the Westside Regional Center’s service area, other California area regional centers are listed on the California Department of Developmental Services’ website: https://www.dds.ca.gov

Westside Regional Center
Address: 5901 Green Valley Circle # 320
Culver City, CA 90230
Phone: 310-258-4000
Email: info@westsiderc.org

WESTSIDE FAMILY RESOURCE AND EMPOWERMENT CENTER
Located in the same building as the Westside Regional Center is the Westside Family Resource and Empowerment Center. From their website:
Westside Family Resource and Empowerment Center (WFREC) staff are experienced parents and family members of individuals with special needs who are trained to provide emotional and informational support to families who have a child or young adult with a disability, chronic illness or other special health care needs. We also provide information and support for professionals and teachers working with people who have disabilities. Support groups and specific disability groups offer parents whose children have similar challenges the opportunity to meet and share information and mutual support. When families share common concerns and experiences the support can be uniquely meaningful. We also sponsor trainings and workshops to help families advocate for their children and access services and community resources.

Address: 5901 Green Valley Circle #320, Culver City, CA 90230
Phone: (310) 258-4063
Email: westsidedrec@gmail.com
Hours of Operation: 9:00am-5:30pm

EARLY START: 0-3

If your child is younger than 3, the Westside Regional Center provides assessment to see if your child would be assisted through services such as speech therapy, occupational therapy, physical therapy, behavioral therapy, and others. If your child is deemed eligible for an early start program, you will be offered one at no cost to you. There are several early start programs in Los Angeles County, and there is an early start program located on the UCLA campus:
UCLA Intervention Program

3 AND UP: SCHOOL DISTRICT

When your child is 3 or older, unless they are deemed eligible for lifetime services through the Westside Regional Center, they are served by the Los Angeles Unified School District’s Division of Special Education. The Los Angeles Unified School District can assess your child and help you to develop an Individualized Education Program (IEP) that will include school-based services. If you are moving to the Los Angeles area and your child had an IEP previously, their office is the contact for beginning the IEP process in the Los Angeles area.

OTHER RESOURCES AVAILABLE AT UCLA

Parenting and Children’s Friendship Program, Semel Institute for Neuroscience and Human Behavior
Offers parent-assisted social skills group programs for children in elementary school (beginning at end of 1st grade) who are having problems making and/or keeping friends. Also offers parent training/behavior modification programs for parents with children (starting at age 2) and early adolescents (age 12-15).
Phone: 310-825-0142

UCLA Recreation Adaptive Programs

From their website: UCLA Recreation provides therapeutically-based recreation programs for people with cognitive and physical disabilities that expand their access to opportunities that promote physical fitness, health and wellness, increased self-esteem, and greater functional independence. In addition to adaptive programs, we provide opportunities for students and community members to volunteer. Volunteers are utilized in the development and delivery of programs. Educating the campus community on the lifestyle of individuals with disabilities in relation to recreation and sport is another aspect of the program. Adaptive Recreation is committed to providing programs and presentations to campus organizations about adaptive equipment and programs.

Students with Special-Needs Children (SwSNC) is a support group at UCLA that empowers students who are parents to children with special needs through advocacy, education, compassion, and empathy. Open to undergraduate, graduate and professional school students.
NON-TRADITIONAL STUDENTS NETWORK

From the SOLE website: The UCLA Non Traditional Student Network is an organization and support system which brings together all UCLA students who are returning to higher education after pursuing various walks of life. We assist students with the facilitation of resources, and advocate for our growing community which is fostered by non-traditional students, advocates and amazing faculty. Our Mission: As the Non-Traditional Student Network is to function as both a social, academic, and institutional support system for the diverse and growing demographic of non-traditional students at UCLA. What is a non-traditional student?
-Anyone returning to school after taking a break from their educational goals.
-Working professionals finishing a degree or working on a new one.
-Parents returning to school after starting a family.
-People returning from military service.
-Older students returning to school after taking time of to pursue other life goals.
-Transfer students
-Part-time students
-Commuter students
-Married students
-Students who work full-time while enrolled and are financially independent
-And more! The 'non-traditional student' experience, and identity, falls outside of a traditional high school-to-college path.

UASRA
If you live in University Village, be sure to join the UASRA Group on Facebook (University Apartments South Residents Association). It is comprised of residents of University Village, the majority of whom are students with dependents. Please contact the Students with Dependents program, however, if you need assistance connecting with other student parents regardless of whether they live in University Village or elsewhere off-campus.
LITTLE BRUINS CLUBHOUSE: UCLA RECREATION

The Little Bruin Clubhouse, funded in large part by the social justice referendum, provides free and reduced cost evening youth programming for dependents at the John Wooden Center for children diaper graduate-age 14. Student dependents may utilize the clubhouse at no cost. Recreation members are invited to bring their dependents to the Little Bruin Clubhouse by purchasing a $35 quarterly pass for each dependent, or paying $10 per dependent per visit. The quarterly pass may be purchased online, and the day pass may be purchased through the Guest Pass module or in-person at the Cashiering Office on the 1st floor of the John Wooden Center.

HEALTH INSURANCE AND HEALTH CARE RESOURCES

UC SHIP
Health insurance is mandatory for all UC and UCLA Students. The UC Student Health Insurance Plan (UC SHIP) is available to all registered UCLA students, including both undergraduate and graduate students. The Arthur Ashe Student Health and Wellness Center provides medical and preventative care/primary care while you’re on campus. Because all UC students are required to have medical insurance, UC automatically enrolls all registered students in UC SHIP.

If you choose to waive out of UC SHIP you must do so by particular deadlines each year, and you must show that you have an alternative health insurance plan.

UC SHIP offers medical, pharmacy, dental, vision, mental health and substance use disorder benefits for all UC undergraduate and graduate students and their eligible dependents.

All registered UCLA students, with or without UC SHIP, are eligible to receive services at the Ashe Center; however, with UC SHIP, most services are prepaid.

For in-person assistance with any questions about health insurance (both UC SHIP and non-UC SHIP options), visit the Insurance Office window at the UCLA Ashe Center on the 4th floor and ask the helpful staff about any questions about UC SHIP or finding other insurance options for you and your dependents.

For online information about UC SHIP, visit https://www.ucop.edu/ucship/ or go to www.studenthealth.ucla.edu and click on the “Insurance” tab at the top of the page.

INFORMATION ABOUT UC SHIP FOR YOUR DEPENDENTS OR IF YOU ARE PREGNANT
Undergraduate, graduate and professional students who are enrolled in UC SHIP have the option to enroll eligible dependents in a voluntary insurance plan. The plan provides Anthem Blue Cross PPO medical insurance with the option to purchase Delta Dental and Vision benefits.

If you are pregnant and have UC SHIP, you are also eligible to enroll in Anthem’s Future Moms Program (the link is found on the Dependent Coverage page on the website). If you are in need of health insurance for your dependents or want the information about the Future Moms program, go to www.studenthealth.ucla.edu, click on the “Insurance” tab at the top, then the “Dependent Coverage” tab on the left hand side.

Please do consider discussing all of your options in person at the Insurance Office window on the 4th Floor of the Ashe Center. The staff can save you time by talking through what is available to you.

Pregnant/lactating student parents: you should be aware that you are eligible to be reimbursed for appointments with a lactation consultant through UC SHIP, as well as for a breast pump rental. Please speak with the Insurance Office window on the 4th floor of the Ashe Center for details.

Also make sure to consult with Students with Dependents Program Staff and/or the Insurance Office on the 4th Floor of the Ashe Center to make sure that you understand how the timing of any leave you may take may affect your health insurance. Consult with them ahead of time so you know your options and you can make sure you do not have a break in health insurance.

NO-COST AND LOW-COST HEALTHCARE OPTIONS (INCLUDING DENTAL)
*Note: Consult with the Insurance Office on the 4th Floor of the Ashe Center to talk through all of your options and which will be the lowest cost for you and your family. It is important to do your research to determine whether UC SHIP or another plan will better meet your family’s needs.

MEDI-CAL FOR LOW INCOME FAMILIES/IF YOU ARE PREGNANT
Medi-Cal is one of the most popular options for our low-income UCLA families, which provides free or low-cost health coverage for those who qualify, or low-cost plans if you do not qualify for Medi-Cal Families or people who are pregnant can apply for Medi-Cal or other low-cost plans through Covered California.

Visit https://www.coveredca.com/. If you are pregnant, click on “Get Coverage” and then “Coverage Options for Pregnant Women.”
Please note that the LA Care Health Plan is the Medi-Cal Plan accepted by UCLA Pediatrics, and is the Medi-Cal plan for Los Angeles County. You can see information at www.lacare.org. Again, consult with the Insurance Office on the 4th Floor of the Ashe Center for advice.

VENICE FAMILY CLINIC
Venice Family Clinic has many locations in the Venice/Culver City/ Santa Monica area, conveniently near UCLA and its family housing complexes. You can access services to this low-cost to no-cost clinic by making an appointment with the call center. This clinic also provides assistance with no-cost health insurance enrollment.

GUARANTEED STUDENT FAMILY ACCOMMODATIONS

Newly admitted freshmen and transfer students who need family accommodations are guaranteed housing as long as they apply on time (deadline usually by June 1st) and meet all the requirements.

New incoming graduate students who need family accommodations and are part of a department allocation are guaranteed housing as long as they apply on time and meet all the requirements.

All other students needing family accommodations are placed on a waitlist and assigned based on date of application, facility and apartment preference, date housing is desired, and apartment availability. There is no guarantee that accommodations will be available to students on the waitlist.

PAYING FOR RENT
If rental prices seem to be out of your price range, you may cover this expense with your financial aid disbursement. If you do not have enough financial aid, you may look into these options:

FINANCIAL AID BUDGET INCREASE
If rent is more than what you are allotted in your financial aid budget, you can apply for a budget increase by filling out the current academic year Housing Adjustment Form and submitting it to the Financial Aid and Scholarships Office. Take all paperwork to the FAO, along with a brief statement explaining your special circumstance. Make sure you explain to the financial aid counselor that you are a parenting student petitioning for an increase in your rental budget. The form can be found here: http://www.financialaid.ucla.edu/Forms-and-Publications

Click on “Academic Year Appeal Forms” and then “Housing Adjustment Form.” Although this form states that the maximum increase a student may receive for rent is $200.00 a month, parenting students may petition for more.

Important Note
Any approved housing budget add-ons will be funded with loans. Federal regulations require that all loans offered must be divided equally across all quarters of enrollment. Check with the Financial Aid Office for current standard budget expenses.

Payment Agreements

If you are unable to pay your rent in full by the 1st of the month, it may be possible to enter into an alternative payment arrangement with the Accounts Receivable Office in Housing. Individual circumstances may vary, and students are encouraged to go to the office and discuss their situation with them. For more information, please contact the UCLA Housing Office at (310) 206-7011. The Accounts Receivable Office is located on the first floor of Sproul Hall, which is adjacent to the Northwest Campus Auditorium. Office hours are posted on the following link: http://www.housing.ucla.edu.

UCLA FAMILY HOUSING

UCLA offers four complexes for students with families. Whether you are a married or partnered student (with or without children) or a single parent, UCLA offers you several options for comfortable, convenient, and affordable housing. The following four university apartments are available to student families:

University Village: This complex was built exclusively for student families, meaning married or partnered couples with or without children, and single parents with children residing with them at least 50% of the time. University Village (UV) is 3.5 miles away from UCLA. Bus lines are nearby and $.50 for UCLA students.

Keystone/Mentone; Venice-Barry; Rose Avenue: Mixed Use Housing Facilities: Student families may also reside in these complexes, although these are not built especially for family living.

All UCLA housing complexes available for parenting students are located in the Palms and Mar Vista area, ranging about 3 – 5 miles away from UCLA. Family housing is in high demand, so apply early! For new students, the application deadline is usually at the beginning of June (please check with UCLA Housing for updated deadlines). The non-refundable application fee is $30.00. Please note that a $500 deposit will be required upon your acceptance of your housing offer (usually within 2-3 days).

If you need assistance arranging the deposit, please contact the Students with Dependents program at (310) 794-1823 immediately after receiving your housing offer. For the housing application and more detailed information, go to www.housing.ucla.edu or call the appropriate housing office:

- Housing Services Office
  (310) 206-7011
- Community Housing Office (number available until 9/1/2018; after 9/1 website resources are still available)

AMENITIES

UCLA Family Housing was designed with student families in mind and is located within walking distance to excellent K-12 public schools, grocery stores, parks, libraries, shopping centers, freeways, and public transportation. Units include basic cable and internet services. There are playgrounds for children available throughout the secured complexes, as well as barbeques, a swimming pool, and laundry facilities that enable plenty of community building for students and their families. University Village also has a gated community and a variety of programming and activities like yoga available for UCLA families throughout the year. More information can be found at https://housing.ucla.edu/student-housing/graduate-students-and-students-with-families/university-apartments-eligibility-amenities.

RENTAL RATES

Rental rates for Family Housing depends on the complex you live in and the number of bedrooms/bathrooms that are in your rental. Specific information can be found here:
https://housing.ucla.edu/my-housing/rates-contracts-rules/university-apartments-graduate-family-students-rates

UNIVERSITY APARTMENTS SOUTH TRANSFERS

Student families who are currently residing in any University Apartments South complex are eligible to request to transfer after residing in their unit for at least six months. You may request to transfer from one complex to another or from one unit type to another. You may only ask for a lateral transfer (different apartment, same unit type) to another complex but not within. For more information, visit the University Apartments Rental Office or the UCLA Housing Services Office at Sproul Hall.

NON-UCLA HOUSING IN THE COMMUNITY

Students who prefer to live away from campus in complexes not owned by the University may visit the UCLA Community Housing Office website, http://www.cho.ucla.edu for listings of privately-owned vacant and shared rental units near the campus. They also have a wealth of information on neighborhood profiles and estimated rental costs. Their phone number is (310) 825-4491. After September 1, 2018, their office will no longer answer the phone or have a physical location, but their web resources will still be available to members of the UCLA community.

The Students with Dependents Program does not work with or endorse any particular non-UCLA affiliated online rental search engines.

EMERGENCY HOUSING RESOURCES

If you are in need of emergency family housing and/or experiencing homelessness, please contact these resources for assistance:

UCLA Economic Crisis Response Team
Email: ecr@saonet.ucla.edu
Phone: 310-206-1189

211 LA County: a resource hotline and search engine for all health and human services resources in Los Angeles County. Includes emergency preparedness information, heating and cooling stations in inclement weather, information about family resources, etc.
http://www.211la.org

PATH (Local Organization: People Assisting the Homeless) Making it Home
http://www.epath.org/site/IfYouAreHomeless/how-do-i-get-started.html

CHILDCARE AND SCHOOLS

With the exception of UCLA Early Care and Education, the Students with Dependents Program, the Bruin Resource Center, and UCLA do not endorse any of the following childcare providers or schools. We offer this information as a courtesy to you. This is also not a comprehensive list. Please be sure to thoroughly research any schools/childcare providers before choosing a childcare facility or school for your child(ren).

Due to limited space and long waiting lists, parents with preschool age children are urged to call the preschool or childcare program they are interested in prior to arrival at UCLA. The costs, eligibility criteria, quality, and philosophy vary for each group.

Students who are pregnant should investigate their childcare options and get on a waitlist as soon as they know they are pregnant. Waitlists for infant childcare in Los Angeles are very long. Do not wait until you are later in your pregnancy or until you have your baby to create your childcare plan.

UCLA EARLY CARE AND EDUCATION

Currently, UCLA offers childcare both on and off campus through the following three programs: Infant Development Program (IDP), University Parents Nursery School (UPNS), and UCLA Early Care and Education (ECE).

UCLA Early Care and Education (ECE)
- Contact Information: (310) 825-5086
- Operates three accredited (NAEYC) child care centers: Krieger Center North and South (on campus) and University Village Center (off-campus)
- Open to students, staff, and faculty only. No application fee for students.
- Full-time care only available Monday – Friday 7:30 am – 5:30 pm year round
- Limited tuition assistance for low-income families available.
- Care for infants (2 months) to kindergarten.
- Developmental curriculum (learning through exploration) and science–based curriculum to foster critical thinking.

The ECE Application can be found online at https://www.ece.ucla.edu/tuition/waiting-list-application-tuition-assistance. There are two kinds of tuition assistance for families with at least one parent enrolled as a full-time UCLA student. In a two-parent family household, the second parent must work or also be enrolled in order to demonstrate need for care. The first type of assistance available is the California Department of Education Child Care Tuition Subsidy, which is income-based. If you believe you qualify, make sure you submit the Tuition Assistance Request Form and attach it to your ECE application. The second type of assistance available is the ECE Tuition Scholarship. Please complete the Scholarship Application and submit it with your ECE application. The scholarship is a good option for students whose income exceeds the qualification for the tuition subsidy listed above.

Parenting students needing additional resources to pay for childcare expenses can submit a "Budget Increase Form," located under the current Academic Year Appeal Forms on the UCLA Financial Aid and Scholarships Office Forms webpage.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS
There are a number of choices and programs available to your child(ren) through the local public school districts. Navigating the school districts’ websites can be challenging, with many terms and timelines being specific or unique to schools in the state of California. Please reach out to schools you are interested in as soon as possible to find out about options for your child(ren).

We offer a few tips here for navigating your search for information about local public schools; however, we strongly encourage you to reach out to fellow student parents at UCLA who have navigated this process before. Often your fellow student parents who have children who are a year or two older than you are the best source of current information or of tips on how to manage your search for information. We also encourage you to reach out to the Students with Dependents program if you need assistance with either starting your search or connecting with other parenting students on campus.

To locate public schools in the Los Angeles Unified School District, including charter schools, visit this directory website: https://schooldirectory.lausd.net/schooldirectory/

Some tips:
In the Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD), you have choices available to your child(ren) beyond your assigned school, including magnet schools, charter schools, dual-language programs, and more. For definitions of these programs, please visit echoes.lausd.net and do your research. The FAQ pages for each program, as well as the Why Apply page, are helpful for getting started.

Information fairs are usually held in September and October before the upcoming academic year in which you would be enrolling your child(ren). Contact the phone number listed on the echoes website for current details.

The application timeline is usually the month of October through the beginning of November before the upcoming academic year, with the late application process happening in February.
If your child(ren) turns 5 between September 2 and December 2 in the state of California, they may be eligible for a Transitional Kindergarten (TK) program. Some schools also offer a Transitional Kindergarten Expansion Program (TK-Ex or ETK) for even younger children. For more information about TK and TK-Ex/ETK, please see this website: https://achieve.lausd.net/Page/2822

UCLA TIE-INS Program (Together in Education in Neighborhood Schools)
https://tie-ins.gseis.ucla.edu/
The TIE-INS program is a collaboration between UCLA and 8 local public schools. It enables children of UCLA employees who live outside their attendance area to attend these schools:
- Beethoven Street Elementary School
- Broadway Elementary School
- Brockton Avenue Elementary School
- Nora Sterry Elementary School
- Walgrove Avenue Elementary School
- Emerson Middle School
- Mark Twain Middle School
- University High School

While this is primarily a program for UCLA staff, exceptions have been made for parenting students at UCLA to also apply under certain circumstances. If you live outside of the areas that these schools serve but are interested in this option for your child(ren), please contact the Students with Dependents program for assistance and more information. Additionally, please be aware that parents usually apply in January for their child to be considered for the following academic year.

AFTER SCHOOL PROGRAMS

After school care is available locally, but it is limited to certain schools, age groups and providers. Please contact the school you are interested in directly for more information. The Students with Dependents Program, the Bruin Resource Center, and UCLA do not endorse any of the following after school care providers. We offer this information as a courtesy to you. This is also not a comprehensive list. Please be sure to thoroughly research any providers before choosing a program for your child(ren).

If you don’t know where to start in your search for an after school care program, please contact the staff at the Students with Dependents program for assistance in steps to take to find a program that fits your needs.

ADDITIONAL UCLA RESOURCES

FOOD AND OTHER BASIC NEEDS
Be sure to contact the staff at the Students with Dependents program at the Bruin Resource Center if you are having difficulty meeting basic needs. Staff and interns can assist with locating resources, including applying for social services programs (see next section). Occasionally the Bruin Resource Center has diapers and gently-used children’s clothing available as well for student parents.

If you are concerned about not having enough money for food, there are resources on and around campus that can assist you including:

UCLA Economic Crisis Response (ECR) Team Meal Vouchers

The ECR Team provides meal vouchers to students in financial distress. Contact the Bruin Resource Center for more information and to request vouchers (B-44 Student Activities Center).

Community Program Office (CPO) Food Closet
The CPO food closet is a pantry stocked with donated food items like canned soups and vegetables, instant noodles, bread, and oatmeal for students who need food but are without sufficient funds for food, no questions asked. The Food Closet is located on the first floor of the Student Activities Center, Room 111 by the stairs. Remember to bring a plastic or paper bag with you.

580 Cafe
Free “grab and go” food for those students who are unable to afford the cost of food. Hot and cold lunches, snacks and drinks are available. You make the selections.
Sometimes, they even have meals you can bring home with you to your families (usually on Fridays)!

Open Monday through Friday from 9am-5pm and Sundays from 3-5pm. “Food, Wi-Fi, spirited conversation, and study space.”
Located in St. Alban’s Church, 580 Hilgard Avenue (corner of Hilgard and Westholme across the street from Murphy Hall. located next to the patio tables with umbrellas in the Chaplain’s Office.)

Food Depot
This food pantry is available to parenting students who cannot afford to purchase food for their family. They will provide you with an empty grocery bag and you select the food you wish to take home. Hours are Monday through Friday from 3-5 pm at University Religious Conference at 900 Hilgard Avenue on the 3rd Floor.

FINANCES AND FUNDING

Financial Aid and Scholarships
http://financialaid.ucla.edu/
The Financial Aid and Scholarships Office Service Counter is open for walk-ins Monday through Friday from 9AM - 4PM in Murphy Hall A129J (A Level).

Undergraduate Parenting Student Grant
Every year, UCLA’s Financial Aid Office distributes a need-based grant to undergraduate students caring for minor dependents at least 50% of the time. The grant is usually around $2000 - $3000 every year. Students must submit the FASFA by the UCLA deadlines and submit formal documentation of their dependents every year to qualify. If you have any issues, please contact your Financial Aid Counselor (all students are assigned a Financial Aid Counselor by their last name at the Financial Aid and Scholarships Office) or the Students with Dependents Program Director.
Financial Aid Counselors
All students are assigned a Financial Aid Counselor alphabetically by their last name. It is important that you meet and know your Financial Aid Counselor and that they are aware that you are a UCLA parenting student. Keep them apprised of information about your financial situation and work with regularly to make sure you are maximizing all of the aid available to you. To learn who your Financial Aid Counselor is, please visit this link: http://financialaid.ucla.edu/Contact-Us (scroll down the page to see a list of staff).

UCLA Economic Crisis Response Team (ECRT)

This team services students who are in financial distress and are looking for ways to improve their financial situation. Send an e-mail to ECR@saonet.ucla.edu with your situation so they can begin to assist you. The ECR Team also provides a resource guide for students in financial distress at the following address: http://www.studentincrisis.ucla.edu/Economic-Crisis-Response

Financial Wellness Program

The mission of UCLA’s Financial Wellness Program is to empower all Bruins, including undergraduate and graduate students, to confidently navigate their finances in a way that supports their overall well-being. This program fosters financial literacy skills through workshops, coaching and online educational efforts. Additionally, we aim to encourage students to know who, when and why to ask for help. Overall, the program centralizes and advocates for student economic support services on campus.

Their website offers resources for finances and budgeting, and there are financial literacy online programs available for undergraduate students and graduate and non-traditional students. Staff and peer mentors are available to answer individualized questions. Sara Potter, the program director, works closely with the Students with Dependents Program and is an advocate for our population. http://www.financialwellness.ucla.edu/

Scholarship and Fellowship Application Assistance
The UCLA Scholarship Resource Center (SRC) is a great resource for our undergraduate and graduate students. They offer free resources to help you find and apply for scholarships and fellowships, assist you with editing application essays, and provide numerous workshops on finding and applying for funding. It’s best to make an appointment, though walk-in appointments are available as well.

Hannah Nahm works at the SRC and has been working on finding resources specifically for Students with Dependents. The SRC’s number is (310) 206.2875. Their hours are 11 am to 6 pm throughout the academic year and 12 pm to 5 pm during the summer. They are located in 233 Covel Commons (2nd floor). Covel Commons is a building up on the hill near the undergraduate residence halls.

Additional Funding Resources for Graduate Students:

The UCLA Graduate Division offers a searchable database for scholarships, fellowships and grants. https://grad.ucla.edu/funding/

The UCLA Graduate Division’s Fellowships and Financial Services Office in 1228 Murphy Hall is an extremely useful resource for learning about your funding options. Make sure to stop by and talk with them in person about your options.

JOBS

If you would like to talk through what has worked for other student parents in terms of finding jobs both on and off-campus, as well as using work study, please consult the Students with Dependents program for advice on navigating this process. Additionally, connecting with student parents who are a year or two ahead of you in your program with questions about what has worked for them can be very helpful. If you are having difficulty connecting with other student parents, please contact the Students with Depends program for assistance.

UCLA Career Center
http://career.ucla.edu/
310-206-1915
Strathmore Building (same building as UCLA Parking and Transportation; Career Center is on the upper floors)
501 Westwood Plaza
Set up your free online profile in Handshake as soon as possible to access the full range of the Career Center’s services: https://www.career.ucla.edu/handshake

The UCLA Career Center has comprehensive services and counseling available for undergraduate, graduate and professional school students. Not only can the UCLA Career Center help you look for on-campus employment, but they can also help you find internships and off-campus jobs. They can also assist you with formatting your resume, CV and other job documents, help you practice your interviewing skills, set up informational interviews, update your online profiles, and guide you in exploring various career fields and/or applying to graduate school. They have both one-on-one counseling and workshops available. Additionally, the Career Center will often partner with employers to host job fairs on-campus.

To access the Career Center’s resources, including scheduling one-on-one appointments and looking for jobs and internships, make sure to create your online profile in Handshake. Read their FAQ for more information: https://www.career.ucla.edu/handshake

Work Study

If you aren’t familiar with the federal work study program, and you qualify for it, take the time to learn about its advantages for you. Work study is a federal, need-based form of financial aid available to undergraduates, graduate and professional school students who meet certain eligibility criteria. Here is an overview of the program from the Department of Education: https://studentaid.ed.gov/sa/types/work-study

You will find out whether you qualify for it or not on your EFAN each academic year. If you qualify for work study, you have the option of applying for jobs on campus, and even some off-campus non-profit positions, that use money from the work study program to pay part of your salary. The advantage to the office or program you work for is that the government pays part of your salary instead of the office’s budget. The advantage to you is the availability of an on-campus job that can give you flexible hours and useful professional experience, as well as reduce your loan debt. You can often find work study positions that will help you build skills related to your career goals.
More information on the program and how to find and apply for work study positions on campus can be found here: http://financialaid.ucla.edu/LeftNavUndergraduate/Work-Study-and-Jobs

We also encourage you to talk to your financial aid counselor at the Financial Aid and Scholarships Office if you have questions (all students have a counselor assigned to them by their last name), as well as the Graduate Division’s Fellowships and Financial Services office if you are a graduate or professional school student.

If you do not qualify for work study, you can still apply for on-campus jobs. Qualifying for federal work study just allows for even more options to work on-campus.

Open positions at ASUCLA Jobs (on campus restaurant/service industry; usually also has an annual job fair at the beginning of the academic year): http://asucla.ucla.edu/asucla-employment/

Open staff positions at UCLA (not student positions, but many times current students or recent graduates find work in a staff position on campus): UCLA Campus Human Resources (careers): http://www.chr.ucla.edu

STUDENT LEGAL SERVICES

Do you need legal advice and assistance? Contact UCLA Student Legal Services for help. They are in A239 Murphy Hall, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. http://www.studentlegal.ucla.edu or contact them at (310)–825–9894.

Attorneys, with decades of experience, provide confidential legal counseling and assistance regarding a wide range of legal issues to all currently registered and enrolled UCLA students. Your student fees contribute to this service.

They help students with a variety of problems, including: landlord/tenant relations; accident and injury problems; domestic violence and harassment; criminal matters; divorces and other family law matters; automobile purchase, repair, and insurance problems; credit, collections, and financial issues; employment matters; and health care and consumer problems.
They also frequently assist students with issues they have with other UCLA departments in such areas as housing, financial aid, harassment, discrimination, ADA compliance, student discipline, and faculty misconduct.

UCLA Student Legal Services gives students the information they need to assess their options and, in appropriate cases, will negotiate on behalf of the student, as well as draft letters and legal documents for the student. Students should make appointments online. There is a $10 fee for the initial one-hour consultation with an experienced attorney.

They also have monthly Mobile Legal Clinics throughout campus. See their website for more information.

TRANSPORTATION AND PARKING
Students with Dependents are eligible for an exception for parking permits based on their need to transport their children to school/childcare. Students must apply by the deadline each quarter and can submit proof of their dependents to the parking office. For more information about parking deadlines, visit this website:

https://main.transportation.ucla.edu/campus-parking/students/student-parking-prioritization-process/student-parking-dates-and-deadlines

UCLA subsidizes public transportation on the Culver City Bus (CCB) and the Santa Monica Big Blue Bus (BBB). If you will be taking either of these buses regularly, your best option would be to get a BruinGo Flash Pass. It’s $33 per academic quarter. You can purchase it on the UCLA Transportation website listed below. Please be aware, however, that if you are in a carpool on campus you are not eligible to purchase a Flash Pass, so be sure to investigate your options with UCLA Transportation ahead of time to find out the best one for you. If you are a GAIN participant, they should be able to pay for your bus pass. If you take the BBB or CCB bus infrequently, you can either swipe your BruinCard (BBB) or show your BruinCard to the driver (CCB) and you’ll be able to ride for $.50, a significantly discounted fare.

For other transportation options for getting to and around UCLA, information about additionally discounted public transit options including on LA Metro, parking, vanpool, carpool and bikeshare options, contact UCLA Transportation:
https://transportation.ucla.edu/

Don’t forget to sign up for the Bruin Commuter Club (sign up at transportation.ucla.edu). It offers incentives for students who take public transportation, bike or walk to campus.

CENTER FOR ACCESSIBLE EDUCATION

UCLA’s Center for Accessible Education (CAE) facilitates academic accommodations for regularly enrolled, matriculating students with disabilities. The CAE provides access to the numerous educational opportunities available to students on our campus and empowers students to realize their academic potential.

If you have questions about disability-related accommodations, please contact the CAE at (310) 825-1501.
https://www.cae.ucla.edu

From the CAE’s webpage for pregnant and parenting students:

A normal pregnancy generally doesn’t qualify as a disability under the ADA, although disabling conditions associated with pregnancy (such as gestational diabetes and preeclampsia) would qualify if they substantially limit one or more major life activity. Pregnant and/or parenting students who have general questions about their rights under Title IX should contact the Title IX office.

Although a normal pregnancy doesn’t qualify as a disability under ADA, the CAE provides academic accommodations for pregnant, parenting, and lactating students.

Common accommodations available to pregnant, parenting, and lactating students include:

- Adjusted attendance requirements
- Adjusted assignment deadlines
- Exam accommodations (separate test environment, time compensated breaks)
- Modified assignments
- Access to lactation spaces on campus
- Van service
- Parking
- Housing
If you are a pregnant, parenting, or lactating student and you need academic accommodations, please Apply for Accommodations. During the interactive process, a CAE Disability Specialist can work with the student to devise an accommodations plan tailored to each student’s unique needs. It should also be noted that parenting student rights also extend to male students.

If you are unsure of whether your questions or issues should be addressed by the CAE or the Title IX office, please feel free to give us a call. The CAE works closely with the Title IX office to ensure that you have access to the information and accommodations you need.

If you are experiencing a web accessibility issue, please contact the ADA/504 Office for further assistance by emailing ada@saonet.ucla.edu or calling (310) 206-8049.

If you are a student and would like to file a disability-based discrimination grievance, please see UCLA Procedure 230.2: Student Grievances Regarding Violations of Anti-Discrimination Laws or University Policies on Discrimination Based on Disability

DASHEW CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS AND SCHOLARS
The Dashew Center for International Students & Scholars serves the international community at UCLA. They are the central hub for contact, resources, support and advocacy for international students and scholars.

If you are an international student, the Dashew Center often offers supportive programs including a spouses-circle. Check their website for updated details.

GRIT PEER-TO-PEER LIFE COACHING PROGRAM
GRIT Peer-to-Peer Life Coaching program is committed to the development and well-being of the whole student. GRIT stands for guidance, resilience, integrity and transformation. In this program, UCLA students receive individualized support from trained peer coaches, with the aims of enhancing overall well-being and improving academic and personal success by utilizing various strategies for empowerment. Topic areas that peer coaches focus on during their one-on-one sessions with students include stress management and mindfulness, fostering positive social connections, goal setting, academic skills enrichment and navigating campus resources. GRIT is open to undergraduate and graduate students.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS OFFICE

The UCLA Community Programs Office (CPO) is one of the most diverse places on campus, where undergraduate students from various communities come together to learn from each other and share each other’s experiences. It is a place for students to find a community away from home, a safe place where they can feel comfortable enough to grow and flourish during their time on the UCLA campus. The CPO serves as an umbrella to the Student-Initiated Access Center, the Student Retention Center, as well as to numerous community service projects. The CPO office strives to help students succeed in any way that it can. It offers things like free scantrons and blue books. Definitely pay them a visit to see how they can help you!

SOCIAL SERVICES BENEFITS
Please contact the Students with Dependents program staff for assistance with navigating Department of Public Social Services (DPSS) programs and services.

The Department of Public Social Services (DPSS) is the government entity that overseas CalWorks, CalFresh and the MediCal program. Eligibility is determined on a case-by-case basis and is dependent upon what type of services the student is seeking. LACountyHelps is a great online tool that can help you determine different health and human resources programs you and your family may be eligible for. Every family situation is different, so do not hesitate to apply regardless of whether you think you may qualify or not.

California Work Opportunity and Responsibility to Kids (CalWORKS) is a welfare, time-limited program that provides financial assistance to eligible needy families with (or expecting) children to help pay for housing, utilities, clothing, medical care, and other necessary expenses. If a family has little or no cash and needs financial assistance. The income of the family is considered in calculating the amount of cash aid the family receives. Some UCLA students with dependents qualify for CalWORKS.

CalFresh was established to improve the nutrition of people in low-income households. It does that by increasing their food-buying power, so they are able to purchase the amount of food their household needs. CalFresh benefits are used instead of money at the grocery store. It is also known as “food stamps.” CalFresh benefits are issued via an Electronic Benefit Transfer (EBT) card. There is a pre-screening tool you can use online to verify if you are eligible for CalFresh. Many UCLA Students with Dependents qualify.

The nearest DPSS office to UCLA is the Rancho Park office (corner of Pico and Sepulveda)
11110 W. Pico Boulevard
Los Angeles, CA. 90064
(310) 481-4018

- Monday-Friday, 8:00 AM- 5:00 PM
- CalWORKS
- CalFresh (Food stamps)
- Medi-Cal

You can apply multiple ways for DPSS benefits. Feedback from our students who have previously applied say that they have had the most success and fastest response with applying either online or in-person.

- Online: You can find the online application here. The system will prompt you to create a YourBenefitsNow! account.
- In-Person: Hardcopy applications can be found at your nearest DPSS office or in the Bruin Resource Center. The nearest DPSS office to UCLA is in West Los Angeles at the corner of Pico and Sepulveda, down the street from the mall (Westside Pavilion). It is called the Rancho Park #60 office. It is suggested that if you go in-person, that you visit their office first thing in the morning to avoid long lines and wait times (office hours are typically 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.). With your hardcopy application, you will also want to make sure you are prepared with the following information:
- MyUCLA information: Copy of Schedule of Classes, Enrollment Verification, Financial Aid Award/eFAN
- Copies of all utility bills (ex: water, sewer, garbage, electricity, gas, etc.)
- Copy of Lease Agreement
- Copy of Driver’s License, Copy of Social Security Card, Copy of UCLA ID Card (you also need to provide this for your spouse if you are married)
- Copy of Child(ren)’s birth certificate and Social Security Card

The BRC is happy to help you make copies of these items for you so you are prepared with your DPSS visit.

- US Postal Service: You can mail materials to: Dept. of Social Services, Attn: CalFresh, 1110 W. Pico Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90064. This is not recommended though.

GAIN – The GAIN program provides employment-related services to CalWORKS participants to help them find employment, stay employed, and move on to higher paying jobs, which will ultimately lead to self-sufficiency and independence. CalWORKS participants receive GAIN services in the GAIN Regional offices. It is mandatory for all CalWORKS participants to participate in GAIN. Often your role as a student will meet the hour requirement needed to satisfy GAIN. Hours spent in class and whether you go to class full-time/part-time will be considered. You will need to submit your student schedule usually on a quarterly basis. GAIN will approve your “Student Status” and help with the cost of your books and school supplies.

CALWORKS/GAIN Paperwork

CalWORKS/GAIN services can be accessed through the Bruin Resource Center (BRC) and Academic Advancement Programs (AAP) Office at UCLA. The BRC has coordinated efforts with the local DPSS offices to provide our staff with the necessary skills to better assist students with paperwork verification needs. We are available to answer questions regarding case management, advocate on student’s behalf, and provide additional resources.

Students still eligible for GAIN can request Book Reimbursement forms for basic school supplies by coming to the BRC. Make sure to let your caseworker know that you attend UCLA, which is on a quarter system.
